

Eric Moskowitz
1822 Avocado Road
Oceanside, CA 92054
760.470.4890
moskowitz.e@gmail.com

Education

New York University, New York City, New York.

Class of 2007

Major: History (GPA: 3.589)

Major: Politics (GPA: 3.478)

El Camino High School, Oceanside, California

Class of 2003

GPA: 4.25 (11th in graduating class of approximately 580 students)

Work Experience

July 2007-April 2008, Group Gordon Inc., New York City, New York

Associate in a strategic communications firm focusing on public relations and public affairs. Client industries included public policy, theater, finance and law. Client responsibilities included drafting and editing press releases and communications plans, usage and maintenance of media contact databases using software such as Cision/Bacon's and Factiva, media outreach, client competition research and brainstorming outreach and marketing ideas.

September-December 2006, Washington Square News, New York City, New York

Opinion Editor of NYU's daily student-run newspaper. Responsibilities included line-editing op-eds, formulating and writing house editorials with the opinion staff and maintaining contact with reporters and opinion writers on a daily basis. Utilized publishing and copyflow software such as NewsEditPro and Wordpress. Wrote a weekly opinion column while performing Editor duties. 41 published articles and 4 published cartoons.

June-August 2006, The Israel Project, New York City, New York

Media Fellow/ full-time research intern for a strategic communications firm specializing in message strategy research. Responsibilities included arranging press events for Israel Project researchers and experts, formulating press releases for distribution to major media outlets, updating and maintaining media contact databases using software such as Cision/Bacon's and writing op-eds to major newspapers publicizing Israel Project talking points.

Volunteer Experience

January-May 2007 Washington Square News, New York City, New York

Editorial Board member of NYU's student-run daily newspaper. Responsibilities include formulating and writing house editorials while maintaining my weekly opinion column. Daily content contributor to the WSN Opinion Blog, including writing and formatting posts and graphics using Wordpress publishing software.

September 2003 – May 2007 Political Spectrum, New York University, New York

Vice-President from September 2006 to May of 2007; Secretary from September 2005 to May 2006 of non-partisan current events and politics discussion group. Responsibilities include writing weekly club e-mails, organizing speaking events including panel discussions, and maintaining the club membership database.